Established in 1974, Killington Mountain School is a private school specifically designed to provide a quality educational experience for a select group of motivated athletes with a strong interest in competitive alpine racing, freestyle and snowboarding. Killington Mountain School is a State of Vermont approved private secondary school for grades 7-12, which offers instruction for a five month period of time. Students attend their home school programs in September and October, enroll at Killington Mountain School for November through March, and then return to their home schools to complete their academic year.

I recommend this applicant to Killington Mountain School

With enthusiasm
